Scott,

The current version of the FS is still draft & shouldn't be posted yet. The posting/review should be done after the Interim FS is final. On the schedule, the current estimate for the proposed plan is Sept 2014, however that may change as the date for the NRRB was just changed to July 28. The FS schedule is uncertain now too – that will depend on the extent of the comments based on the current reviews.

Thanks, Gary. Appreciate the heads up.

If you get a chance, please get back to me about (1) the revised schedule questions I have and (2) if we can do technical review of, and post, the draft final interim FS or if we need to wait for the final interim FS, or if we have to wait for the final FS.

Scott

Folks,

The NRRB meeting date for San Jacinto has just been rescheduled for July 28, 2014. So, for those who are still working on their comments, please have them to me no later than June 20, 2014. For those who have already submitted your comments, if you wish you may revise/extend your comments, but again please have them to me by June 20, 2014.

Thanks,

Gary Miller
